

Sexual Harassment in Housing is Illegal!

Sexual harassment by a landlord, maintenance worker or anyone associated with your rental property is against the law.

The Fair Housing Act protects you from sexual harassment, including:

- someone repeatedly entering your apartment without permission;
 - unwelcome sexual advances;
- refusing to make repairs because you deny sexual favors;
 - other forms of sexual harassment

If this happens to you or you feel you have been discriminated against;
You can file a housing discrimination complaint!

FAIR HOUSING: THE LAW IS ON YOUR SIDE

To file a complaint or get more information on housing discrimination, call us at 201-489-3552 or visit us online at:

www.fairhousingnj.org

Like us on Facebook!

Follow us on Twitter @fairhousingnj

Are you looking for housing?

Have you been discriminated against?

Let us help!

Call the Fair Housing Council of Northern NJ

201-489-3552

info@fairhousingnj.org

Funded by a grant from the United State Department of Housing and Urban Development